LA: Go to LA Classroom. I sent a Scope article called "Binge-Watching." Yes... I know this may be something you can relate to right now!! I actually have not had a chance to "Binge-Watch" anything, but if I did, it would be The Amazing Race or Shark Tank! Read the article and fill out the "quiz." The password for Scope is: furman2017

Math: This week we will be talking about positive and negative numbers! They are called INTEGERS! We learned about integers at the beginning of the year but today we will become familiar again! Today's lesson is a review

Please screen shot or take a picture of your score and send it to me! You can text it to me at 812-630-2625 (please let me know WHO you are when you message me) or upload it to your google drive and share it with me!

PE: PLEASE READ!! During the 4th quarter our fitness test is pushups. In place of the pushup test we are going to do a 30 day push up challenge. Your goal is to get better not necessarily how many you can get compared to someone else, but instead how much you improve compared to when you started. The calendar will be submitted to me at the end of 30 days with a parent signature. Each day that you complete the workout have your parents sign it.
